FIELD PLACEMENT INTERNSHIP 2022-2023

The internship program at the C. G. Jung Institute of Los Angeles offers clinical training at the Kieffer Frantz Clinic for adults. Opportunity for training at the Hilde Kirsch Children's Center is available to qualified interns who are accepted into the program through the adult clinic.

The program formally begins mid-September and ends August 31. The time commitment for the internship is 12 continuous months. There is no stipend, nor is there any training fee.

Clinic experience consists of 10 cases, one hour of individual supervision and two hours of group supervision per week. In addition, the intern will be required to attend selected seminars and meetings at the Institute.

Requirements: Applicant must currently be enrolled in a doctoral program in clinical psychology or have already completed a master's degree. Internship hours may be counted toward the psychology license or toward the M.F.T. license. Applicant must have completed 50 hours of analysis with a certified Jungian analyst and have had one year of clinical experience before beginning the internship. In addition, the intern must continue to be in weekly personal Jungian analysis during the internship.

Application: Please complete the enclosed application, verification of analytic hours, obtain three personal references and have them send letters directly to the Institute. At least one letter must be from your current or a previous supervisor. In addition to those letters, please have your personal analyst sign the attached verification of hours of analysis.

Send all application material to:

Field Placement Admissions Committee
C. G. Jung Institute of Los Angeles
